INVITATION TO APPLY
Emerging Leaders Programme 2023
Applications now open

Dear Valued Members,

Applications are now open for the Emerging Leaders Programme 2023, which will focus on digital health across cardiovascular diseases (such as Coronary Heart Disease, Atrial Fibrillation and Hypertension).

Now in its ninth year, the WHF Emerging Leaders Programme provides training and networking opportunities in cardiovascular health policy and implementation research for healthcare practitioners, researchers, and global health advocates, while focusing on a different priority area every year.

The 25 successful candidates will join a strong global community of more than 200 leaders in cardiovascular health. Candidates will participate in online training and a five-day seminar on 15-20 October 2023, hosted by the University of Sydney in partnership with the National Heart Foundation of Australia. Attendees will undertake collaborative group work based on proposals developed during the seminar, with seed funding support from WHF for selected applications.

Candidates from academia, civil society, healthcare and the private sector are all encouraged to apply. Candidates may be affiliated with a WHF Member organization, but this is not mandatory.

How to apply

Create your user account on My WHF portal and manage your application in the dedicated section. The application must be submitted in English. Learn more about the application requirements and selection criteria here.

Apply by 28 February.

For any further queries or information about the Emerging Leaders Programme, please contact us at emergingleaders@worldheart.org.
